LINGAYAS VIDYAPEETH

School of Architecture and Planning

Lecture on Water governance of Delhi

A lecture on topic “Lecture on Water governance of Delhi” is organized by School of Architecture and Planning on 31.03.2023 in which Ar. Savitri, professionally an Architect cum Planner also pursuing Ph.D from School of Planning and Architecture (SPA), New Delhi.

Ar. Savitri covered the topic Water governance in easy way by explaining water supply and demand. Water governance is impacted by globalization, and multilateral and bilateral agencies play a part in affecting water policies and practices. She put lights on the topic on protection of aquifers to sustain water sources, such as rivers, lakes, and ponds, and supplying sufficient quantities of high-quality water for various purposes is highly dependent on how water is governed in cities and regions.

As Ar. Savitri doing Ph.D on related topic therefore she was able to explain the policies of water governance in Delhi taking live examples of different sites in the city. She explained water governance is both a technical and a political matter that involves power plays among global players, the state, the private sector, the third sector, and local communities, as well as local leadership such as resident welfare associations. Who gets access to water is not entirely based on the availability and quantity of safe drinking water but also on who governs it.

Students of architecture get knowledge about water governance and also about the body regulating, Delhi Jal Board (DJB) which is constituted through an Act of Delhi Legislative Assembly on 6th April 1998. It has been meeting the needs of potable water in the National Capital Territory of Delhi for more than five decades.

Universal Human Values

Context with Justification:

Human civilisation is known for the values that it cherishes and practices. Across various times and places, sages, saints and seers, drawing on their experience, developed practices that placed central importance on values, though the names used by them differed, as their languages varied but the spirit was same. Universal human values are values that human beings cherish and hold in common consciously and otherwise in most of the places and times and practice them. Renunciation is the foundational value. Renunciation or greedlessness has two preconditions: love for all living beings and absence of selfishness. Renunciation is not self-directed but other-directed and is for life in all forms and shapes, for welfare of all. Renunciation begins when selfishness ends. Renunciation to run away from the problems of life is cowardice. Renunciation without action means parasitic life. Also, service can be practised only when renunciation with action begins. Un-egoistical service is inconceivable without renunciation; and true service is possible only through love and compassion. Life and death are eternal truths, so is the truth as fact and truth as value. Truth exists between the two ends of life and death and is to be pursued.

Truth, Love, Peace, Non-Violence and Righteous Conduct are the Universal Human Values. Renunciation (sacrifice), Compassion and Service are also commonly acceptable human values, which at the operation level have been named differently as sincerity, honesty, righteousness, humility, gratitude, aspiration, prosperity, non-violence, trust, faith, forgiveness, mercy, peace and so on. These are needed for well-being of an individual, society and humanity and ultimately Peace in the world.

This course aims at making learners conscious about universal human values in an integral manner, without ignoring other aspects that are needed for learner's personality development.

Objectives

The present course deals with meaning, purpose, and relevance of universal human values and how to inculcate and practice them consciously to be a good human being and realise one's potentials.

Learning outcomes

By the end of the course the learners will be able to:

1. Know about universal human values and understand the importance of values in individual, social circles, career path, and national life.
2. Learn from case studies of lives of great and successful people who followed and practised
3. human values and achieved self-actualisation.
4. Become conscious practitioners of human values.
5. Realise their potential as human beings and conduct themselves properly in the ways of the world.

Pedagogy

Learning is a challenging, engaging, and enjoyable activity. Learners should be encouraged to engage in a rigorous process of learning and self-discovery by adopting a highly focused approach to education versus rote learning. In teaching and learning pedagogy of universal human values, there should be a shift from domain or conclusions-based approach to the experiential or process/es-based approach.

The faculty should promote learning of values on a proportionate scale of 20:30:50 principle, where lectures constitute 20 percent of the delivery (Hear); visuals 30 percent of the learning methods (See); and experience 50 percent (Do). This ratio is subject to change as per the needs. In order to achieve its objective of focused-based learning and holistic development the faculty/ facilitators should use a variety of knowledge delivery methods: interactive lecture so that students work with their teachers to get new insights in the subject area, and are able and build their own bridges to higher learning, Discussions of values and their practices on real life issues in groups, Simulations to provide students opportunities to understand real life situations and scenarios, and solve challenges in a controlled environment or make use of them in simulating cultural experiences by locating/transposing them in new (local, regional, national and international) situations, Case Studies, Role Play, Team Work, and Study Visits to provide an opportunity to students to see the individuals or organisations that practice these values and contribute to their own self and the humanity. Faculty / facilitators should make judicious use of pedagogy and andragogy in conduct of sessions.

Assessment

Mode of Evaluation: Continuous Evaluation

Self-assessment, Feedback, Practical Case Assignments, Simulations, Panel Discussions, Individual and Group activities, Question and Answer sessions invited motivational talks, and field visits to the places/individuals and institutions that practice one or a set of values.

Note: Each student will keep record of his/her daily learning after each module/session in the Reflection Journal. The faculty will maintain record of the Reflection Journal after a face to face to workshop.

Dear Sir /Ma'am / Students,

Greetings of the day

Every year, on 31st May, the World Health Organization (WHO) and global partners observe World No Tobacco Day (WNTD). The annual campaign is an opportunity to raise awareness on the harmful and deadly effects of tobacco use and second-hand smoke exposure, and to discourage the use of tobacco in any form. This year, the theme of World No Tobacco Day 2021 is "Commit to Quit".

In this regard, we are organizing the e-pledge-taking ceremony on "World No Tobacco Day" at our university in a befitting manner following strict adherence to the Government Guidelines/Protocols on COVID-19.

A copy of the pledge in English and Hindi is available at the form <https://tinyurl.com/lvpledge2> .

07/06/2022

World Environment Day (WED) is celebrated annually on 5 June and is the United Nations' principal vehicle for encouraging awareness and action for the protection of the environment. First held in 1973, it has been a platform for raising awareness on environmental issues such as marine pollution, overpopulation, global warming, sustainable development, and wildlife crime. World Environment Day is a global platform for public outreach, with participation from over 143 countries annually. Each year, the program has provided a theme and forum for businesses, non-government organizations, communities, governments, and celebrities to advocate environmental causes.

The School of Humanities & Social Sciences, Lingaya's Vidyapeeth organized a 'Go Green & Cleanliness Drive' on World Environment Day on 7th June 2022 under the able guidance of Professor Anand Prakash Pathak. The drive emphasized on developing the environmental ethics within the students.

The Event was led by Dr. Hanan Khalid Khan who took all the students and faculty members to the scheduled venue: Old Faridabad Railway Station. The Lingayas team was given a warm welcome by the Station Superintendent Mr. A. K. Goyal and his team. The students enthusiastically participated in the cleanliness drive by cleaning the Railway station areas like: Platform, waiting area, ticket counter and stairs. Ten flowerpots were donated to the railway Station Superintendent to promote the protection of eco system. Keeping the hygiene and the spread of Corona Virus in mind the students of Lingaya's Vidyapeeth distributed hand sanitizers to the railway workers.

After the successful completion of the 'Go Green & Cleanliness Drive' at Old Faridabad Railway Station the Lingaya's Family thanked the Station Superintendent Mr. A. K. Goyal by presenting him a file folder & kit. The event was concluded with a group photograph with the Railway and SoHSS team.

Dear Lingayains,

Greetings!

Occasionally, a new way of organizing work leads to extraordinary improvements.

Design thinking is all about to understand users, challenging assumptions, redefining problems and creating innovative solutions to prototype and test.

Design thinking identifies hidden needs by having the innovator live the customer's experience so this human-centered approach to innovation will transform the way you develop products, services, processes, and organizations.

Therefore to synergize our efforts towards innovations, THE MARKAZIAN CLUB of SOCM and FMA are jointly organizing a live webinar on 'Design thinking' by Ms. Harini Srinivasan 'Partner' SEMCOSTYLE INSTITUTE, INDIA on 01/10/2021 at 2:30 PM – 3:30 pm.

So on the behalf of SOCM Lingaya's Vidyapeeth (Deemed to be university) I request you all to participate and motivate students to learn and expand their wings to deal with the emerging world.

PFA

Thank you in advance.

Physical well-being

- This can be defined as lifestyle and behaviour choices that ensure good health and reduce the risk of preventable diseases and conditions while promoting a balanced state of mind, body, and spirit.
- While each of these forms of well-being can be defined separately, it is clear that they are all interconnected.
- Emotional well-being in particular is about accepting and expressing feelings in a way that can help maintain positive mental and physical health.

- Mental health includes our emotional, psychological, and social well-being. It affects how we think, feel, and act as we cope with life. It also helps determine how we handle stress, relate to others, and make choices. Mental health is important at every stage of life, from childhood and adolescence through adulthood and ageing.
- Mental health is important because it can help you to:
 1. Cope with the stresses of life
 2. Be physically healthy
 3. Have good relationships
 4. Make meaningful contributions to your community
 5. Work productively
 6. Realize your full potential

SESSION 2: Intellectual property: a new tool to fuel economy

SPEAKER: Mr. Tushar Srivastava

Summary: In the presentation entitled "Intellectual Property a new tool to fuel economy, Mr. Tushar Srivastava shows how countries can use the intellectual property system to leverage their intangible assets - such as inventiveness, creativity and knowledge - to promote economic development and wealth creation.

"Intellectual property is native to all peoples and relevant in all times and cultures, and has historically contributed to the progress of societies. It is a force that can be used to enrich the lives of individuals and the future of nations - materially, culturally and socially". The book seeks to explain how this enrichment takes place by demystifying intellectual property and describing not only the "what" but also the "why" and the "how" of the subject. It is a practical guide to identifying, understanding and using those intangible assets, which are rapidly replacing traditional and tangible assets such as land, labor and capital, as the driving forces of economic health and well-being.

SESSION 3: Technology marketing as an opportunity for career development

SPEAKER: Mr. Arvind Rao

Summary: In the presentation Mr. Rao explained that how marketing has become a measurable, monitorable and data-driven discipline. To the most creative marketers this may sound like a negative thing; but in reality, it just means all of their ideas and innovations can be tracked, tweaked, improved and proven, making a real return on investment (ROI) demonstrable internally to the broader business (and especially up the food chain of decision makers). For decades marketers have had to find ways to prove the need for their campaigns. The new methods they use, and the huge uplift in the volume of data available, makes this much easier than ever before. With so much data there are always new ways to grow, adapt, and change, to deliver the best possible results and answer executive concerns.

Marketing is no longer just about how creative you are. As customer experience becomes a key brand differentiator, marketers have to harness the data available to them to succeed. Part of the modern marketer's role knows their customer—inside and out, personalizing their experience, and ensuring they come back for more.

Marketing is not going to go backward. There won't be a return to the idea that the marketing department is 'winging it' and just trying out any creative idea. Modern marketing will become more entrenched and driven by data and technology, and it is essential the professionals involved embrace and utilize the resources available to them. The data and technology are there, it comes down to marketer's ability to make the most of them. This way, marketers will not just safeguard their jobs, but maintain their seat at the table.

At the end the host of the programme gave special thanks to all the experts and all the dignitaries and the participants.

Faster communication, electronic storage and the protection of records are advantages that IT can have on our enterprise. IT is driven by the demands of the new, competitive business environment on the one hand and profound changes in the nature of computers in the other. Information Technology systems come in the shape of many technologically advanced devices which help deliver important information to managers and thus they use this information to make crucial decision regarding the operations of their organization. IT has to do with computer applications, on which nearly every work environment is dependent. He explained that IT give us remote access to our company’s electronic network, so that we can work from home or on the road. This accessibility allows us to increase our productivity because we can still get work done, even when we aren’t physically in the office. The applications of sentiment analysis encompass the areas like social event planning, election campaigning, healthcare monitoring, consumer products and awareness services. The immoderate use of internet by business organizations all around the globe has noticed that opinionated web text has molded our business plays and socio-economic systems. The computational power is fueled by burgeon of machine learning techniques. He explained that social networking sites dispense their data conveniently and freely on the web. This availability of data entices the interest of young researchers to plunge them in the field of sentiment analysis. Contemporary Construction Materials-Brief Report

School of architecture and department of civil engineering in collaboration with JK Cement organized a workshop on Contemporary Construction Material on 11.09.2019. The presenter of this was Mr. Jha (zonal head JK cement). As we all know that cement (binding material) is most important construction material used in any kind of construction. Mr. Jha not only elaborated about the cement but also about all the new building material and the techniques which are coming in construction industry now a day.

Contemporary construction material is the amalgamation context based building materials with the modern building materials produces a sustainable style. Denser materials such as concrete, tiles, stone, and bricks have high thermal mass. Lightweight materials have low thermal mass. Higher density materials have higher heat storing capabilities. So the contemporary construction materials are those which are efficient in construction and environment friendly as well. The Zonal head gave an overview on the following contemporary building materials: Brick, R.C.C., Stone, Wood, Pre-engineered steel, Aluminum, Glass, Stainless steel, External finishes, Flooring, False ceiling.

Mr. Jha also had a question-answer session with students of Architecture and civil engineering as well and shared his experience as he has been worked on many projects in his professional career. He talk about importance of contemporary construction material in shaping a new India keeping in mind the environment and the development as a whole.

In the end, a vote of thanks and an honorarium was given to the Zonal head Mr. Jha by dean, school of Architecture.

Report on Soft Skills Enhancement Programme
Session: 2019-2020

Students must develop a variety of skills and abilities throughout time in order to stand out in the competitive society. These abilities will aid students in developing a successful professional career in colleges and universities. Strong personality development is aided by soft skills. On the other hand, a lack of soft skills can limit potential, or even can restrict students' growth. By developing strong leadership, teamwork, and communication abilities, a person can work more smoothly, deliver results that please everyone, and even positively influence one's personal life by improving how that person interact with others.

To Enhance the skill and knowledge of the students, soft skills development program was organized by School of Basic Sciences & Humanities, Lingaya's Vidyapeeth from 14 Oct 2019 to 18 Oct 2019. It aimed at inculcating and building upon the basic soft skills that are required by every student while appearing for the recruitment process of any company. Soft skills are identified as the most critical skills in the fast-moving era of technology. These include doing in-person interviews, conducting SWOT (strength, weakness, opportunity, and threat) analyses, writing and communicating effectively, creating resumes, participating in group discussions, and creating reports and presentations. An overwhelming number of students expressed interest in this concept; approximately 167 registered.

The communication and writing skills workshop educated the students on the value of clear communication and business language. The SWOT analysis exercise assisted the students in recognizing their areas of strength and weakness and developing strategies to strengthen them. A thought-provoking group discussion was also held. Additionally, a personal interviewing workshop was held, during which students learned the subtleties of appropriate interview conduct.

An introduction to CV construction was provided, along with a thorough discussion of resume writing approaches. Students are given the opportunity to explore new ideas and develop their personalities through this soft skills development program.

Guest Lecture on Smart and Sustainable Cities – Brief Report

School of architecture organized a guest lecture on smart and sustainable cities on 18.04.2019. The Guest lecture was very knowledgeable not only for students but for everybody who attended the lecture, the guest speaker so experienced shared knowledge with everybody. The guest speaker was Prof. Chitra Chidambaram an architect having specialization in infrastructure planning from university of Stuttgart Germany. She has an overall experience in various capacities with many national and international bodies including DST, HUDCO, FICCI, UNDP etc.

The speaker deliver lecture showing presentation on different parameters of sustainability simultaneously on smart cities. A smart sustainable city is an innovative city that uses ICTs and other means to improve quality of life, efficiency of urban operation and services, and competitiveness, while ensuring that it meets the needs of present and future generations with respect to economic, social, environmental as well as cultural aspects. Smart cities promise to generate economic, social and environmental value through the seamless connection of urban services and infrastructure by digital technologies, but there is scant evidence concerning their ability to enhance social well-being, build just and equitable communities, reduce resource consumption and waste generation, improve environmental quality or lower carbon emissions. This special issue addresses the gap between the pipedream and the practice of smart cities, focusing on the social and environmental dimensions of real smart city initiatives, and the possibilities that they hold for creating more equitable and progressive cities.

Guest Lecture on Issues in Architecture and Urbanism - Brief Reprt

School of architecture organized a guest lecture on architecture and urbanism on 20-Nov-2018. The session was held in two sessions and was very knowledgeable for the students. Speaker told about the design philosophies and also deliver lecture on how to initiate the design.

Speaker also gave attention to enhance the creativity level of the students. Creativity is the act of turning new and imaginative ideas into reality. Creativity is characterized by the ability to perceive the world in new ways, to find hidden patterns, to make connections between seemingly unrelated phenomena, and to generate solutions. Enhance Creative Thinking Creative cognition is the use of regular cognitive operations to solve problems in novel ways. As practical knowledge is also important for leaner therefore the Design Approach in Architecture needs to be people-led as well as design-led.....The design process is iterative with ideas being progressively tested, refined and reviewed against the design brief with the clients, user groups, local authorities, artists and consultants as part of our collaborative approach.

On the second session was on urbanism. Students came to know about urbanization, its growth, necessity, shortcoming and how overcome the problems generated by population. Although the two concepts are sometimes used interchangeably, urbanization should be distinguished from urban growth. Whereas urbanization refers to the proportion of the total national population living in areas classified as urban, urban growth strictly refers to the absolute number of people living in those areas It is predicted that by 2050 about 64% of the developing world and 86% of the developed world will be urbanized.
